Wadsworth Denies Cristman Charges

That He Advocates a Return of The Saloon and Had Violated His Oath of Office By Urging Repeal of the 18th Amendment.

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 16 (AP).—United States Senator James W. Wadsworth, who is carrying his campaign westward through southern New York today, said he was happy after meeting with friends and receiving a demonstration of welcome here last night. An audience which filled the Lyceum theatre applauded his stand on prohibition modification and a continuation of the policies incorporated in the national defense act.

The senator was joined by Mrs. Wadsworth here last night, and she planned to go with him today to hear him speak in Painted Post, Bath and Elmira. Tonight the senator will be with her to the Wadsworth home in Genesee for the first time since he set out on his tour of the state in Canada two weeks ago. He planned to rest Sunday night at a meeting in the First Presbyterian Church.

Twice yesterday Senator Wadsworth scored the third party candidate, Franklin W. Cristman, for "riding with the truth" and "suffering from confusion of thought" in charging that the senator advocated a return of the saloon and had violated his oath of office in urging a repeal of the 18th amendment. At Ithaca he mentioned Mr. Cristman by name for the first time in the campaign and denied both charges. Again last night at Ithaca he reiterated his opposition to a return of the saloon and upheld his proposal as the right of a citizen to suggest a change in the laws of the land.

Calles Wants Fewer Clergymen

Mexico City, Oct. 16 (AP).—President Calles has submitted to congress regulations limiting the number of Catholic priests and ministers of every denomination permitted to preach within the federal district. Eighteen would be permitted to preach for the territory of Lower California and three for the territory of Quintana Roo. (Yucatan.) It is unofficially estimated that there are 350 Catholic priests in the federal district. The number was considerably larger, but most of the foreign priests have departed under the enforcement of the religious clauses of the Constitution which provides that no foreigners may function in Mexico. It is estimated that there are about 350 ministers of all the other religious congregations within the district.

President's Son Being Guarded

Amherst, Mass., Oct. 16 (AP).—Why John Coolidge, Amherst College student and son of the president, is being guarded by Colonel Edward W. Starling of the Secret Service remains a mystery today. "I have no idea," young Coolidge said inquirers, while from other sources it was learned that threats to his son were believed responsible for Starling's presence. The Secret Service operative lived with the president's son and is with him constantly except at classes.

Weather Outlook For Coming Week

Weather outlook for the week beginning Monday:
Middle Atlantic States: Period of showers toward middle of week and again toward end; temperatures mostly below normal with occasional frosts over north portion and below normal over south portion.
Great Lakes: Rain.

Babe Ruth Here, Is Met at Ferry

Babe Ruth of the Yankees, the best known baseball player in the world, arrived in Kingston from Rhinecliff on the one o'clock ferry this afternoon and was met by a delegation of Kingston fans, including Judge Harry E. Schrick, former leader of the Colonials, Hugh McTague, now one of the leaders of the club; Charles Muller, Charles A. Warren, Dr. John G. O'Leary, and one or two others.

The Babe was readily recognized as he stepped off the ferry accompanied by his manager, on account of his great size. He appears like an overgrown boy and wore a tan cap and rain coat. Some of his retinue carried his famous war clubs and his suit case containing his uniform.

As usual there was a goodly gang of "kids" on hand to extend a welcome to the King of Swat, and were rewarded by a close up of their hero and his smile of welcome.

Windrum Met Sudden Death

Former Shokan Resident Lost Life in River at Brooklyn—Funeral Monday at Shokan Reformed Church—Wife and Five Children Survive.

Tracy Windrum, who was employed by one of the large steamship companies at a dock warehouse in Brooklyn, was drowned about 6 o'clock Thursday evening when he was seized with a heart attack while sitting on a string piece on the dock and fell overboard into the water. The body was recovered a few minutes later.

Savage Elected Legion Head

Edward P. Savage of Chicago Is Elected National Commander in Midst of Hot Battle—See You in Paris Next Year, Was Parting Greeting.

Philadelphia, Oct. 16 (AP).—The 1926 reunion of the A. E. F. is over. Wending their way homeward today, having completed a busy week in the eighth annual convention of the American Legion, veterans and their wives and daughters appeared as of one mind that next year's convention in Paris must be as successful as the one just ended. "See you in Paris next year," was the parting greeting of the legionnaires as they left for their homes. Enthusiasm was unaltered as the former soldiers envisioned a second trip to France—and Paris.

Marshall Gives Wadsworth Credit

Louis Marshall, Noted Constitutional Lawyer, Praises One of Senator Wadsworth's Accomplishments—Deplores, Racial or Religious Classification in Political Campaigns.

Louis Marshall of New York city, the well known lawyer and authority on constitutional law, has written the following letter in behalf of the candidacy of United States Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., for re-election.

October 15, 1926.
Dear Sir:
An account of the organization of the Jewish American League in support of the Democratic candidate for United States Senator has appeared in various newspapers. While it is the right of every citizen to advocate the election of his party candidate, I have always deplored the tendency of introducing into a political campaign racial or religious classification. It is contrary to the spirit of our government, which makes no such distinction, and is a degradation of what should be regarded as sacred.

In the published articles there is an insinuation that Senator Wadsworth, the Republican candidate, is opposed to immigration. That charge is not only without foundation, but is a grave injustice to one who has shown himself to be the friend of the immigrant and who has been engaged in the effort of humanizing our immigration laws. As one who has for many years fought the battle of the immigrant, I can say that nobody in Washington has proven himself a more earnest advocate of the amendment of the Immigration Law so as to enable divided families to be united, than Senator Wadsworth has. It is due to his influence that the platform adopted by the Republican Party at the recent state convention in unqualified terms advocated such an amendment. In conjunction with Congressman Perlman he introduced in Congress and is fighting for the adoption of a law which will carry out that program. He has spoken most eloquently and convincingly on the floor of the Senate and in committee of the existing law. To assert, therefore, that he is seeking to separate husbands and wives, parents and children, brothers and sisters, is the very converse of what he has been doing and is a gross slander.

Senator Wadsworth is recognized by all deserving men as being today the most useful and influential member of the Senate. The very fact that he has thus assumed the chairmanship of this measure gives assurance of success. He has now served in the Senate for twelve years after a long experience in the New York Legislature. He is thoroughly informed with regard to all state and national problems, and he has devoted himself diligently to their solution. It is highly important for a state like this to be represented to the upper house of Congress by one who has had a long experience in public affairs. It takes many years to acquire the experience which is essential to usefulness. The record of Senator Wadsworth has been remarkable and he deserves well from the constituency which he has so faithfully served.

Friday Night Frost Destroys Vegetation

Friday night was one of the coldest thus far this fall. There was a heavy frost which destroyed gardens and ice formed in exposed places. Although there have been slight frosts, gardens have not been badly damaged where they were in sheltered places. The frost Friday night, however, was severe enough to end the local vegetable season.

Several Hurt When Flyer Jumped the Tracks

Danville, Ohio, Oct. 16 (AP).—Four mail clerks were slightly injured and more than 100 passengers slightly bruised when the west-bound "American" New York-St. Louis flyer, jumped the track at Fisher, near here at 5:30 a. m. today.

Robie Here Sunday

Evangelist L. C. Robie, who has just completed an evangelistic campaign at North Webster will begin his Sunday morning at Marlborough. Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock he will speak on "The Flashlight of God" at the weekly Y. M. C. A. services in the Auditorium.

Los Angeles on Return Trip Flies Over Kingston

Navy Dirigible Is Married Flight From Detroit Due To Approaching Storm, Makes Return Trip Over Hudson River Valley Route.

The United States navy dirigible Los Angeles, in charge of Lt. Commander C. Rosendahl, returning from her three-day flight test which was made from Lakehurst, N. J., to Detroit, passed over Kingston shortly after three o'clock this morning. At the Newcomb Oil plant at Kingston Point, an employee stated that the big ship floated gracefully over the plant at 3:10 o'clock. The dirigible was not flying high and could be plainly seen. Two lights on the ship were visible. The humming engines made very little noise.

Lands at Lakehurst

Lakehurst, N. J., Oct. 16 (AP).—The Navy dirigible Los Angeles was back home today after a hurried flight from Detroit, made necessary by an approaching storm.

Her return marks the successful completion of a test flight similar to one that spelled disaster to her sister ship, the Shenandoah, while flying over Ohio a year ago.

The dirigible landed at the naval air station field at 7 a. m. The return was made in 13 hours and five minutes by way of Lake Erie, Buffalo, Syracuse, Albany and down the Hudson river valley to New York. It was without incident, the big ship functioning perfectly all the way. For a time a speed of 70 miles an hour was maintained.

Storm Warnings Caused Change

The original plan of Lieutenant Commander C. E. Rosendahl, in command of the ship, was to remain in Detroit and vicinity until 10 o'clock this morning, but the storm warnings made necessary the change in schedule. Accordingly the proposed trip to Selfridge field was cancelled and the hawser cast off from the Ford mooring mast at Dearborn at 3:40 p. m., central time yesterday.

Visit From Henry Ford

During the stay at Dearborn the dirigible was visited by Henry Ford and his son, Edsel Ford, and Mayor Smith of Detroit and many others. Mr. Ford and his son arrived at the airport shortly after midnight Thursday and watched the maneuvering necessary to anchor the big ship to the mooring mast.

While passing in the outbound trip over the Ohio area where the Shenandoah met disaster, extreme care was taken. Flying speed was reduced as low as 15 miles an hour part of the way and the ship was brought close to the ground. No difficulties were encountered, however.

Fail to Identify Mystery Man of Legion

New York, Oct. 1 (AP).—Who is "Jerry Tarbot," the mystery man of the American Legion? This question remained unanswered today, despite reports of identification or partial identification by persons who have seen "Tarbot" at the American Legion convention in Philadelphia or have seen his picture in the papers.

Head Local Committee For Methodist Meeting

Herbert Carl of 26 Linderman avenue, Kingston; Peter Stevens of Norton Hill; Mervale Jones of Phoenix and Harry W. Cronk of Grand George are heading the local committee from Kingston and vicinity for the Methodist men's meeting to be held at the Hotel Commodore, New York city, on October 23 and 24.

Says Split Will Elect Democrats

Smith Says Republican Party Is Hopelessly Split—Will Never Stop Talking About Hearst.

Dunkirk, Oct. 16 (AP).—The most significant feature of Governor Smith's first week of campaigning for re-election in his opinion, is "the hopeless split" in the Republican party on the prohibition question. This he believes, will result in victory for the Democratic state ticket at the polls this fall.

"The Republican party is hopelessly split," he asserted basing his opinion on talks with political leaders on his tour across the southern tier counties. "The candidates for congress on the Republican ticket throughout the upper part of the state find it convenient to have a doctor's certificate rather than make a personal appearance when the Republican candidate for United States senator appears."

"If this means anything, it means a party division. Every candidate of the Democratic party from Niagara Falls to Montauk Point can appear with Judge Wagner and myself without prejudice to his own prestige."

Another significant feature of his trip, the governor said today, is that "statement after statement made by Congressman Ogden L. Mills has been openly challenged by men within and without his own party."

"The popular impression," he said, "seems to be that Congressman Mills was not relying upon his own knowledge but was permitting himself to be prompted by others. Nothing weakens a candidate so much as a well-grounded popular opinion along that line."

Others Includes Hearst

The "others" mentioned by the governor, included, he intimated, William Randolph Hearst, whom he charged in a speech at Hornell Thursday night with being allied with and directing the Republican campaign. Last night at the end of his speech here, the governor declared that he would "never stop talking about Hearst," while in his speech, he asserted that although he had seen some men "who were hungry for public office," he knew of none "unless it be his partner Hearst who would go as far as Congressman Mills is going."

Carpuso Must Support His Wife Judge Directs

Donato Carpuso of No. 8 North street was arrested in Rochester on Friday on a warrant issued in Kingston and obtained by Mrs. Carpuso, charging her husband with failure to support her. Officer Soper made the trip to Rochester, returning Friday evening with his prisoner. This morning Judge Shufeldt directed Donato to pay his wife $5 weekly and to furnish $400 bail as guarantee for the weekly payments. Unable to furnish the bail, he was remanded to the county jail.

Woman Killed By Moonshiners

Trinidad, Colo., Oct. 16 (AP).—Emilly created when Miss Rosa M. Perdue, former Wisconsin welfare worker, informed officers of the location of mountain whiskey stills, resulted in her being shot to death by moonshiners two weeks ago at her Saddle Canyon home, police declared after the finding of her body yesterday.

Business Certificate Filed With County Clerk

A certificate has been filed under the assumed business name law with the Ulster county clerk by Catherine Saltman, 29 Levan street, and Mae Lyons, 298 Washington avenue, that they are conducting a business at 271 1/2 Fair street, Kingston, under the name and style "Kay-May Shop."

Many Sales on Opening Day

The opening day, Friday, of Ulster County Duties, 64 John street, in the Kingston Opera House building, attracted many customers. Visitors who had come to examine the line of high quality of dairy products and other articles carried. The cash register showed that there had been 452 individual sales made during the day.

Riflemen Ready To Battle Bandits

All Possible Outlets Are Under Guard and Police Are Convinced That the Killers Will Soon Be at Bay.

Somerville, N. J., Oct. 16 (AP).—Eight riflemen today led the advance of 500 city, state and volunteer police on the mountain stronghold of New Jersey's machine gun wall bandits. All possible outlets to the district, where the eight men who on Thursday killed one and wounded three men while robbing a truck in Elizabeth of more than $100,000 are thought to be hiding, were under guard, and state police considered augmenting the searching party by 2,000 militiamen, offered by Governor Moore.

As the unexplored area narrowed, the police were more firmly convinced that the bandits would soon be at bay, and preparations for a battle were complete. Automatic rifles, machine guns and gas bombs were in the hands of the authorities to be used, and troops were under orders to "shoot without warning," if sure of their suspects.

The invasion of the generally peaceful Watchung mountain by the police army has caused terror among residents. Orders have been issued that shades are to be kept drawn in farm houses and children are told to shun motorists. It is thought that the bandits will shoot to kill if their demands are not granted.

The two automobiles used by the eight men have not yet been abandoned, causing their pursuers to believe they expect to make a dash for liberty. The cars have not been seen since Thursday afternoon, several hours after the holdup.

Mills Receives Warm Greetings

Jamestown, N. Y., Oct. 16 (AP).—Pleased with the reception tendered him on his swing through the southern tier in behalf of his candidacy for governor of New York, Ogden L. Mills today turned northward into Erie and Niagara counties.

Everywhere in the strongly Republican territory he had traversed in the past few days the candidate, has been met with the blare of bands and the warm greeting of Republican county and district leaders. Last night about 2,000 persons gathered in the car barns here to hear him and Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, secretary of state, urge the election of the Republican state ticket. The only discouraging information received by Mr. Mills here was that the Jamestown registration so far is the smallest in many years.

This afternoon the candidate speaks in Lockport and has another speaking engagement in the evening in Niagara Falls. On Monday his endurance will be tested in Buffalo where arrangements have been made for eight or nine meetings in one day.

U. S. Mail Will Be Protected

Washington, Oct. 16 (AP).—The United States mails will be protected against bandits even if it becomes necessary to call upon the Army, Navy and Marine Corps to guard them. This declaration followed today from Postmaster General New, following a decision by President Coolidge, and his cabinet as the result of the $299,000 mail robbery at Elizabeth, N. J.

Officer Hicks Shot the Skunk

Friday afternoon about 3 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from No. 184 Fair street that a skunk had taken refuge in the cellar window, and had the neighborhood up in arms. Officer Floyd Hicks, who has an unrivaled reputation as a hunter was sent to the scene and dispatched the skunk. "A skunk, eh," observed Officer Hicks when assigned to the job. "then I better take the riot gun, although my revolver would do the job, but as I have just had my uniform dry cleaned I'd hate to have it soiled."

Accordingly he armed himself with the police riot gun and hastened to the scene of duty. Walking up to within safe distance of the skunk, Officer Hicks aimed and fired. One shot was all that was necessary. He had blown the skunk's head from his body, and not a whiff of unwelcome fragrance filled the air.

EVENING
FAIRY TALE

THE HARBOR SEAL

"The animals and the creatures in the zoo make me quite weary and quite tired," said the Harbor Seal to a sparrow who was perched on a fence nearby.

"Why not?" chirped the sparrow. "Because," said the Harbor Seal, "they are always boasting about what they are famous for and they are always saying that they do this and that, and that they are admired for this and that."

"Well, don't they speak the truth?" asked the sparrow.

"To be sure they speak the truth," said the Harbor Seal, "but without much effort or interest or energy."

"Then what is the trouble?" asked the sparrow, for he was always interested in trouble and quarrels. He hoped to hear of a good quarrel now. "Nothing is the trouble," said the Harbor Seal, "but it does seem absurd for them to boast of their usefulness and to brag of their beauty."

"It's so silly," said the sparrow.

"Well, a quarrel is good fun and bread and crumbs are good food, and they are all in life," said the sparrow. "You're an absurd little thing," said the Harbor Seal.

"I'm not," said the sparrow. "You may object to me all you want and I'll stick around."

"At least I don't mean I'll stick around the way something that is sticky will stick."

"But I mean I will stay around. You see I'm a rough and unmanly little fellow and I use words in none too superior a fashion."

"I'm not going to quarrel with you," said the Harbor Seal, "though I can see you would like to quarrel."

"I would," agreed the sparrow. "I'd like to scold at you. I couldn't really."

"You're an Absurd Little Thing," said the Harbor Seal.

"Sight you very well. You're too big," said the Harbor Seal. "For it won't make any difference to me to have it worth your while."

"Too bad," said the sparrow, "only at the thought that a quarrel was going to be missed."

"I," said the Harbor Seal, "am contented to be uninteresting and I am quite satisfied to be dull."

"I do not care in the least if I am neither especially beautiful nor even beautiful at all."

"I do not object to it because I am not useful."

"Perhaps it is because you aren't useful or beautiful that you can't see why others have a right to enjoy their own good points," said the sparrow.

"Perhaps so," said the Harbor Seal. "Well, aren't you going to quarrel with me and scold me for saying such a thing?" asked the sparrow, chirping in surprise.

"No," said the Harbor Seal. "I can't be bothered. I told you I wouldn't quarrel with you."

"But I thought that speech would make you," said the sparrow.

"It won't," said the Harbor Seal. "It is so much more than I can understand other creatures having pride and interest and usefulness and beauty when you are so dull that you can't even have a steady quarrel."

"Hurry you object to me," said the Harbor Seal in a tired, hoarse voice.

"I do," said the sparrow, happily. "I don't really mind," said the Harbor Seal.

So the sparrow flew away to tell the other birds what a strange and thoroughly uninteresting creature the Harbor Seal was.

BISHOP GEORGE A. MILLER

CHRISTABEL PANKHURST

HAROLD T. BARTLETT

HERBERT A. DARGUE

Bishop George H. Miller, of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Mexico City, told President Coolidge his church was receiving the same treatment as others. Christabel Pankhurst, famed suffragist, is now speaking in the Adventist movement in London. Lieutenant Commander R. A. Barrett was to command a non-stop navy flight from Hampton Roads, Va., to Colon, Panama. Major Herbert A. Dargue will head the flight of army planes to South America.

LAKE KATRINE.

Lake Katrine, Oct. 16.—In spite of the inclement weather a good-sized audience greeted Secretary L. S. Coe and his "gang" as he called them, who in connection with the Farm and Home Bureaus, held a community meeting at the hall on Wednesday evening. Fred Kukuk, chairman of the Flatbush Farm Bureau was in charge and introduced Secretary Coe who put on the following program: Fred Van Deusen, a sleight of hand performance; Miss Jeanette Cashin, a solo dance; Miss Helen Cashin and V. Van Bramer, a waltz, accompanied by Harry Maisein; Miss Mildred Messinger gave a group of contra alto solos, accompanied by Mrs. L. S. Coe; a Spanish dance by Frances Finn; Bowery dance by Miss Cashin and Mr. Van Bramer; Miss Longue gave an acrobatic dance. Then all participated in a Charleston "free for all." That all the numbers were thoroughly enjoyed was apparent from the vociferous applause that followed each number. Mr. Kukuk then called on Miss Nance, the Home Bureau manager, and Chester DuMont, one of the directors of the Farm Bureau, and Murray Wigsten, the Farm Bureau manager and Mr. Coe who gave a brief summary of what the Chamber of Commerce is endeavoring to do. Through the courtesy of Forsyth & Davis Lewis Shaw demonstrated the Phonograph which furnished music for dancing. Among the audience were members from Ulster Park, Ashbury, Mt. Marion, Flatbush and Kingston. Mr. and Mrs. James Hare of Brooklyn and the Rev. and Mrs. Herbert Pickett of Medford, Mass., were guests of Mrs. William Trueman this week.

Mrs. Rupert Everett, Mrs. Louis Shaw and Mrs. Stephen Sahler with 29 members of the Kingston Y. M. C. A. Auxiliary motored to Newburgh Tuesday where they were entertained by the Newburgh Auxiliary. Poughkeepsie was also represented. Sunday School as usual. Christian Endeavor at 3:30, topic: "What Ideals are Found in the Constitution of the United States." Leader, Sara Lowe.

The Grange will hold a public dance on the evening of October 26. Zucca's orchestra will furnish music. Popular fiction: "Easy payments."

Daniel A. Tobin To Address K. of C.

There will be a meeting of the Hudson Valley Chapter, Knights of Columbus, on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the rooms of Kingston Council, No. 278, Broadway and Andrew street. The principal speaker at the meeting will be Daniel A. Tobin, past state deputy and now a member of the supreme board of directors of the K. of C. It is earnestly requested that a large number of the members of the local council turn out to welcome the Knights who will be present from many other councils in the valley.

MARLBOROUGH.

Marlborough, Oct. 16.—Dr. A. S. Ferguson, accompanied by Mrs. Ferguson, left Sunday for Buffalo where the doctor will attend the state health officers' conference. The meeting will be of more than usual interest this year for it will be a joint session of State Sanitary Officers' Association and the American Pupil Health Association. Dr. Ferguson is health officer of the town of Marlborough and has attended two of the previous sessions of the state body. He will return home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Nugent and daughter of Massachusetts spent the week end with Mrs. Nugent's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Sutter.

Mr. and Mrs. Hulshart of Cranford, N. J., formerly of Marlborough, are spending a week at the home of Mrs. Clark.

Miss Elizabeth Boland spent the week end at her home in Gardiner.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Plank, the publishers of The Marlborough, returned to New York Tuesday, October 5, on the S. S. Majestic of the White Star liner from their vacation trip abroad and came at once to their home in Marlborough. Most of their journey this summer was in sunny Southern France and Northern and Central Italy. A brief glimpse was had of Switzerland, which they explored more thoroughly last summer, and several days were spent in Belgium and Northern France.

Miss Edna Connor of Highland spent a few days the past week at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Thomas Newell.

Mrs. Edward Downer attended an afternoon tea in the nurses' home at St. Luke's Hospital in Newburgh, given to the mothers of the nurses in training.

Mrs. D. D. Taylor has contributed $2.50 to the nurses' fund. One dollar was received from Mrs. Dobbs of Highland. A toxin anti-toxin clinic was held Thursday in Highland. About 325 children were given treatment last Friday and the remaining twenty or more were to be treated Thursday.

Miss Strohmman is having her car overhauled by States Searles in Marlborough. She is continuing with her work by walking or taking a bus. Occasionally she rides with friends. The children of the Marlborough Union Free School are being weighed and measured by the community nurse.

There were about forty truck loads of fruit that went to New York and Brooklyn nearly every night this week, besides there were thousands of baskets of grapes sold in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sands returned home last week after a ten days auto trip. They stopped at Atlantic City, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Annapolis and various other places. Their return trip was by way of Gettysburg and the Delaware Water Gap.

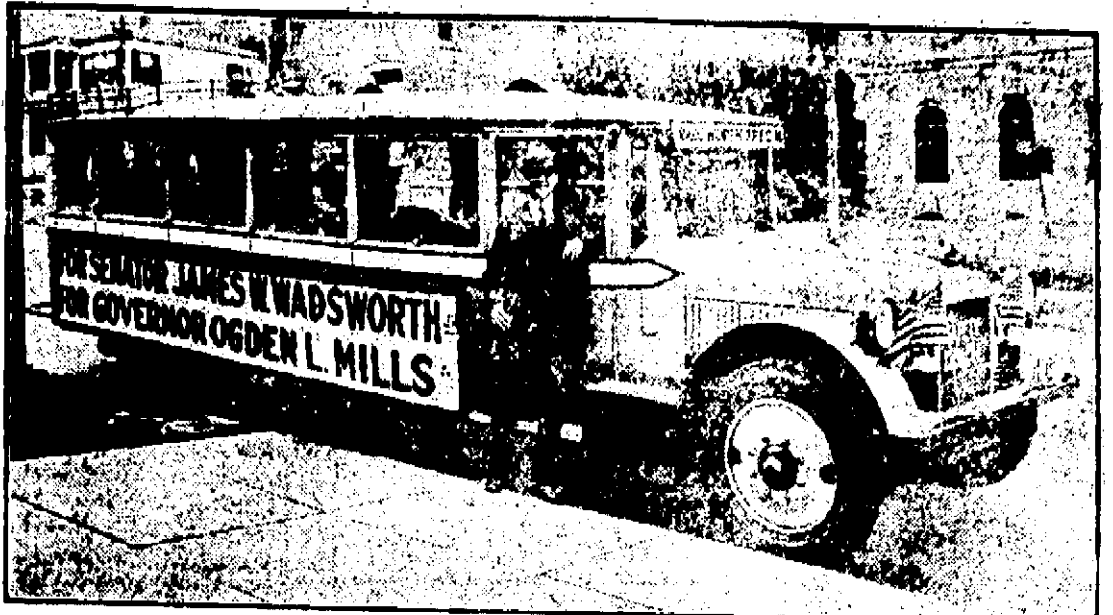

J. A. Hepworth has received word from Miami, Florida, that his buildings there had not been damaged seriously by the recent storm. Mr. and Mrs. Hepworth expect to leave for the south some time this month. After a short stop at Miami they will go to Cuba and Porto Rico. Doyler Hutchins has returned home from attending a convention of the Prudential Insurance Agents at Atlantic City. Mr. Hutchins and two men were sent there by the Newburgh office as representatives of this district. They were the only three chosen from about 65 and the honor of being sent there was awarded to them for having the largest percentage of sales.

Medieval-Day Boxes

Become Denser Chests
Large wardrobe chests of medieval days, sometimes called portmanteaux, were the forerunners of the denser chests of later periods. There were no trunks, such as are in use today, and the big boxes were an important part of the impedimenta carried by the nobles of the Middle Ages on their visits to neighboring castles, says Edward Wadsworth, writing in the International Studio. Usually they were made of oak, but sometimes chestnut was employed. Some of them were covered with leather, upon which the coat of arms and other heraldic signs were embossed. In time they became denser chests, usually containing the more of household goods than the beds took to her husband. Passing from mother to daughter, they became heirlooms of great sentimental value. The chest appeared to all corners of Europe and was brought to America by the first settlers, and trivial chests were among the first pieces of early Colonial furniture constructed.

Sensational Job

A writer remarks on that at one time dramatic critics had to sit on the stage. Nowadays they merely sit on the author, the cast, the scenery and the producer.—The Washington.

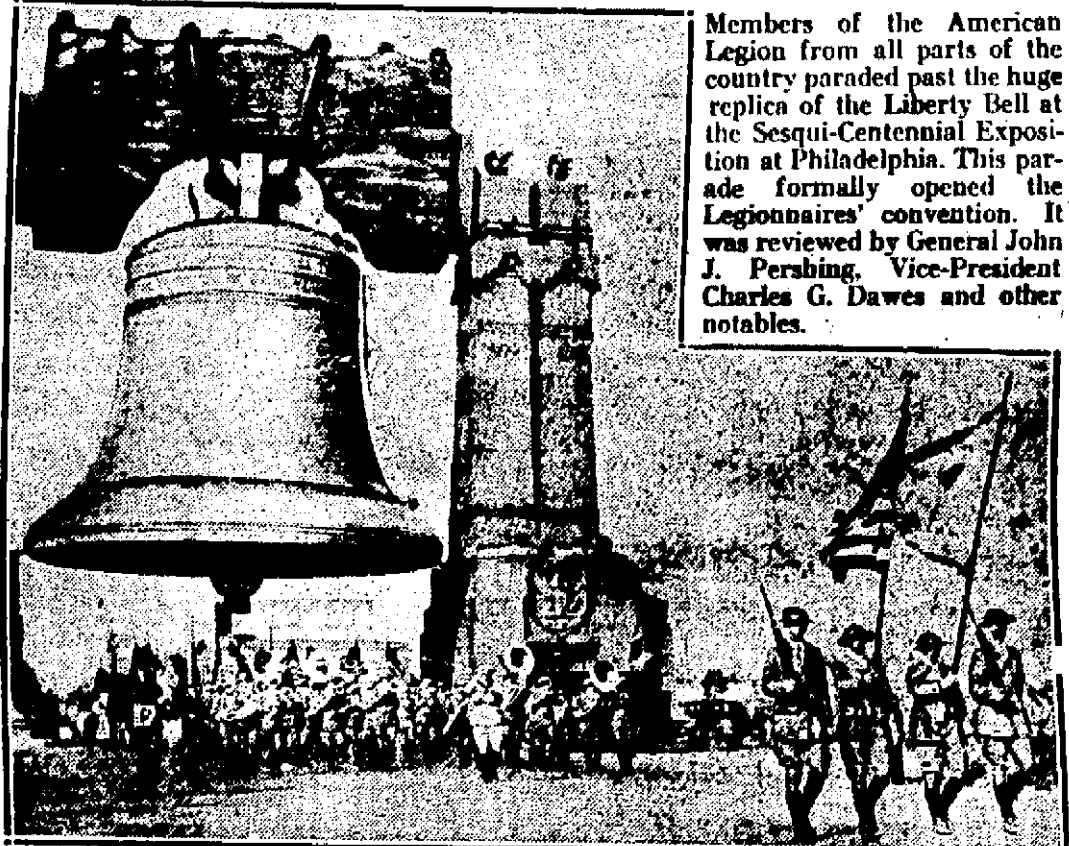

SENATOR WADSWORTH ADOPTS THE MOTOR COACH FOR CAMPAIGNING

When it comes to campaigning favor with politicians in future but also groups of politicians picked over New York state, United States Senator Wadsworth declares that the motor coach has the special train idea beat a mile. He has adopted the rather novel idea of stumping the state this fall with a motor coach, and in all probability the scheme will find not only carries Senator Wadsworth but also groups of politicians picked up from county to county, and also several newspaper men. The equipment includes a table and typewriters, enabling the press representatives to write their copy as they speed from place to place. On account of its size and color, the newspaper men have dubbed the coach "the Blue Behemoth."

Legionnaires Parade 'Neath Liberty Bell at Sesqui

Members of the American Legion from all parts of the country paraded past the huge replica of the Liberty Bell at the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia. This parade formally opened the Legionnaires' convention. It was reviewed by General John J. Pershing, Vice-President Charles G. Dawes and other notables.

Sidereal Year

The period of time required for the earth to make one absolute revolution around the sun is called a sidereal year. It consists of 365 days, 8 hours, 9 minutes and 9.6 seconds. This period never varies.

Missionary Statistics

The Protestant and Roman Catholic churches of Europe and America support 54,000 missionaries, who minister to more than 21,000,000 people, and teach 4,250,000 children in mission schools.

Voltaire's Name Arouse

Voltaire was not the real name of the great French writer. His name was Francois Marie Arouet. The exact origin of the name "Voltaire" is not known, though many explanations are given by students of the writer.

Important Big
Ten Games Today

Chicago, Oct. 16 (AP).—Two big games were outstanding among the eight conferences and several inter-conference clashes topping today's engagement of midwestern football teams.

Michigan's stadium capacity of 40,000 was sold out long before the biggest game of the day in the midwest, and it was estimated that the Illinois homecoming crowd at the Illinois battle with Iowa would reach 50,000.

Also meeting in the first games of the fall with bearing on the western conference championship were Indiana and Northwestern at Evanston and Wisconsin and Purdue at Fort Wayne. Michigan was generally expected to edge Ann Arbor, Northwestern was expected to beat the Illinois-Iowa game, and Wisconsin-Wisconsin games were called a toss-up.

The other two big ten teams were in the eastern seaboard, Chicago at Pennsylvania and Ohio state at Columbus.

Missouri Valley squads plunged into their annual title battle with the Drake-Oklahoma and Kansas-Kansas Aggies encounters leading the major portion of the night.

Drake went out to tackle the Aggies in a gloomy mood, occasioned by the recent illness which kept Coach Seaton from practice work. At Manhattan, Kansas, was a toss-up, with the Aggies and the Jayhawkers tied and anxious for their fray. Grinnell and Iowa seemed matched, also, but Nebraska expected to encounter only moderate difficulties with Washington at St. Louis.

Northern marshaled to turn back Southern Methodist, invading the southwest with southwestern football in the valley's only inter-sectional game, at Columbia, Mo.

Penn State was at South Bend for fourth inter-region game, with a extra game team revamped to fill the gap left by a somewhat costly loss at Minnesota.

BOWLERS AND MYSTICS
MADE HIGHEST SCORES

The Immanuel Bowling League had another season Friday on their bow. The Ramblers defeated the Mystics and the Emeralds were sent to a lower berth by the Mystics.

The scores:

Team	Wells	Studd	Thiel	Total
Ramblers	92	126	126	344
Mystics	129	161	126	416
Emeralds	167	159	192	518

Playing at Prospect Hall on Sunday nights and on Wednesday nights in Arcadia Hall under the auspices of the Nonpareil Club the Brooklyn Visitation will be working on two large floors that will give their vaunted speed tactics plenty of scope and free reign.

Sunday night this club starts its season by playing against the Greenpoint-Trenton crew at Greenpoint.

In a contest that will start the new league off in a baptism of fire as all games between these two contenders have always been productive of the most scintillating brand of basketball and it is fitting that they should each have the right to set the National circuit off on its long campaign during 1926-1927.

RODNEY COONEY AND RED CONATY

Will play the forward positions. Bob Rodney will handle the center assignment, and Joe Brennan and Bob Grieb will take care of the defense. Willis Scull will be held in reserve.

This club is light but exceptionally fast and as each man is a master of his position the work of the opposition all season to head off these youngsters will be a mean one at all times.

SWIMMER PASSES

Marlborough
Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Oct. 16 (AP).—Mrs. Lotty Schoemmel, out to break the record for swimming the Hudson river from Albany to New York, re-entered the water at 9:10 this morning at Milton on the west shore about 11 miles south of this city. At 11:20 she was reported a little below Marlborough, having made about two miles.

Mrs. Schoemmel spent the night in this city. The party was up at 7 o'clock in preparation for an early start.

WINS ORATORICAL CHAMPIONSHIP

Washington, Oct. 16 (AP).—The all-time loving cup symbolic of the world's scholastic oratorical championship was in the possession today of Herbert Wenig, of Hollywood, Calif.

Before a distinguished audience that included President Coolidge, the Pacific coast youth won his title last night in the first oratorical contest from a field composed of representatives of Canada, England, Mexico and France.

Wenig, who recently won the American championship here, spoke on the "American Constitution." Joe Munoz-Cota, Mexico City, who spoke in his native tongue upon "Bollivar and the Latin-American peoples," was given second place by the five judges.

The contests were sponsored by a committee of American newspaper publishers and the cup was presented to Wenig by Frank B. Noyes, publisher of the Washington Star, and president of The Associated Press, on behalf of the sponsors.

Before the contestants took their place at the speaker's stand, President Coolidge greeted the speakers from the college countries in an address in which he appealed to all citizens to exercise their right of franchise. In addition he gave as the attributes of good citizenship respect for American institutions of government and obedience to the law.

The Army team today was giving no quarter and expecting none from Syracuse. Two evenly matched teams apparently left little to choose between them.

Harvard, with two disasters behind, was made a favorite over William and Mary College of Virginia but the visitors were given an edge in a game lining Ohio State up against Columbia at New York.

Tulane, making a long trip from New Orleans, brought a reputation for a dashing attack against which Coach Meehan had carefully prepared his New York University team.

Colgate opposes Pittsburgh, heavily supported by public opinion as the more formidable of the pair, while Notre Dame was favored to beat back an invasion by the Nittany Lions of Penn State.

Cornell meets serious opposition in Michigan State but the Doble machine was ready to function after intensive drilling.

Holy Cross was a decided favorite over Rutgers and Brown was conceded an edge over Bates.

A game in which almost anything in a football way might happen brought a test between Georgetown and West Virginia at Washington.

Yellow Jackets At Poughkeepsie

With the Leona Club of Poughkeepsie and the Yellow Jackets of this city looming forth as the two strongest contenders for the Hudson Valley Pro Football League laurels, the clash of these rival outfits Sunday afternoon at Red Sox Park in Poughkeepsie will mark one of the outstanding games of the grid circuit.

The Yellow Jackets have drilled hard for this encounter and reports come from the Leona stronghold that the Bridge City gridder have been doing the same and both teams have anticipated this match as one of the decisive struggles of the season.

Poughkeepsie plunkin' lovers have stirred up a great deal of enthusiasm in preparation for this contest and consequently a big turnout is expected at Red Sox Park, Sunday afternoon. The match is slated for 3 o'clock.

The probable lineup that the Kingston coaches will send against the Bridge City eleven is as follows: Scheffel, I. E.; McLane, I. L.; Sammons, I. G.; O'Reilly, center; Mahoney, I. G.; Clark, I. T.; Rice, I. E.; Captain Vogt, quarterback; Colvin and Hoffman, halves and Clorne, fullback. The utility men are Ehnes, Howard, Joyce and Martin. The team will leave the local Y. M. C. A. at 12:30 p. m. and travel in autos to the Poughkeepsie "Y," where it will put on its armor for the stiffest struggle they have encountered this season.

Visitations Are Light and Fast

The Visitations, who will represent Brooklyn in the new National Basketball League, shaped up two and three years ago as one of the greatest young professional teams ever grouped together. Just as the team was exhibiting well high unbeatable power and strength, as the easy manner in which they captured the Metropolitan Basketball League championship two years in succession demonstrated the team was broken up and scattered to the four winds.

This year Manager Donlon has brought them together again, and the feeling in Brooklyn is that their favorites are going to get back in the limelight at the expense of some of the greatest basketball teams in the country.

Roddy Cooney and Red Conaty will play the forward positions. Bob Rodney will handle the center assignment, and Joe Brennan and Bob Grieb will take care of the defense. Willis Scull will be held in reserve.

This club is light but exceptionally fast and as each man is a master of his position the work of the opposition all season to head off these youngsters will be a mean one at all times.

Feature Grid Games Today

New York, Oct. 16 (AP).—Arrival of zero hour in football today found a spirit of apprehension in some camps, notably Dartmouth and Yale, furnishing one of the brightest spots on the card, top-heavy with feature games.

Both Coach Mawley of Dartmouth and Coach Jones of Yale, were in the announced position of hoping for the best but fearing the worst.

Yale offers a team prepared to make up in enthusiasm what it lacks in experience. The big Green eleven has more veteran material but was not believed to boast the condition reached by the Elis.

Pennsylvania and Chicago, only one touchdown apart last year, promised another close contest today with the home team regarded as a slight favorite at Philadelphia.

Princeton, slow in starting, expects to spend a busy afternoon in an effort to repulse a new but aggressive Navy crew. Announcement that Sam Ewing, after three years as a sub, would start his first varsity game at quarter, indicated that Coach Roper may be applying methods of psychology against the midshipmen as Ewing has won one game and tied another, by dropping the Navy goal posts.

The Army team today was giving no quarter and expecting none from Syracuse. Two evenly matched teams apparently left little to choose between them.

Harvard, with two disasters behind, was made a favorite over William and Mary College of Virginia but the visitors were given an edge in a game lining Ohio State up against Columbia at New York.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington—Plans for publishing in newspapers articles entitled "When Mrs. Coolidge was a Girl," have been cancelled because Mrs. Coolidge disapproves. The series was written by Mrs. Herbert Hoover for a Girl Scouts' magazine.

Blair, France—Spanish papers coming to this border town are filled with reports of the impending marriage of Princess Beatrice to the Prince of Wales. The foreign minister denies the reports, but not the royal family. The Spanish aristocracy is preparing festivities in honor of the couple, the papers say.

Paris—Mrs. Jean Nash, "the best dressed woman in Europe," is a bride for the fifth time. Her latest husband is Paul Duboulet, son of a cordial manufacturer. He was divorced recently from the daughter of Francois Coty, perfume maker.

New York—There's a battle of wits in court over Ruth Shepley, who once played for George M. Cohan, as "The Typical American Girl." She is the subject of charges by Inez Plummer Dickey, actress, who is seeking a separation from Paul Dickey, actor and playwright. Dickey, Miss Shepley and her husband, Gordon Saare, all deny Mrs. Dickey's allegations.

Montreal—Mrs. Philippe Nicol, who is 38 inches tall and weighs 100 pounds, at 39 is the happy mother of a 3 1/2 pound boy, her first child. Her husband is two inches taller and 10 pounds heavier than she. They were married 20 years ago. On the stage they were known as "Count and Countess."

Kansas City, Kans.—One method of making a jury act in a diet of bread and water. Some jurors here had made up their minds about a case, but refused to return a verdict till their fees had been paid. They gave in after just one meal, consisting of one bucket of delicious Adam's ale, and one loaf of wholesome staff of life.

College Students Here Over Night

A large contingent of students of Syracuse University came to town Friday evening on their way to West Point where the Army and the Syracuse football teams are contesting on the gridiron this afternoon. They stopped over night at the Governor Clinton, the Hotel Stuyvesant, the Eagle and Kirkland Hotel and left this morning in a large automobile bus and in autos for West Point to root for the Syracuse University eleven. While in town they were a lively lot of young men.

NOTED SINGER AT RHINEBROCK RECITAL

Dr. Frederick A. Reininger, baritone of Stamford, Conn., will be the soloist at the musical service and recital at the Church of the Messiah, Rhinebrook, N. Y. Sunday afternoon, October 17, at 4 o'clock. The recital will follow a choir of twenty-two voices, under the direction of W. Raymond Randall, which gave such a successful recital over the air at WDBZ last spring. Dr. Reininger is truly a great singer and those who heard him last year will undoubtedly avail themselves again of this opportunity to hear an artist. Mr. Randall needs no introduction to music followers as a recitalist. The program follows:

CHARGED WITH STEALING SAUGERTIES MOTORCYCLE

A few weeks ago the motorcycle of Carroll Naffor of Burt street, Saugerties, was stolen from his garage and the man who stole it was caught in Danville, N. Y., a few days ago and was held for local authorities. Richard Cameron, aged 21, was brought back to Saugerties by Police Captain Richter charged with the stealing of the motorcycle which was brought back by the owner the same day. Cameron, who had been an employee of the Saugerties and New York Steamboat Company the past summer, was placed in jail and when arraigned before Police Justice Gardner on Friday Cameron was committed to the Ulster county jail at Kingston to await the action of the grand jury.

NATIONAL FURBER IN COTTON INDUSTRY BURN

Philadelphia, Oct. 16 (AP).—George H. McFadden, national figure in the cotton business died suddenly at his home in Rensselaer early today. He was 73 years old.

Mr. McFadden, who was well known as a philanthropist and head of the cotton brokerage firm of George H. McFadden and Brother, died at his home in 1918.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Oct. 16 (AP).—With no respite from the selling movement which has been under way in the stock market, with few interruptions, for the past fortnight, prices again melted away today to the lowest levels of the current decline.

Losses of 3 to 6 points were common along the active issues. As liquidation spread from one group to another, causing sharp recessions in the speculative leaders, reports were circulated that one of the largest Wall street operators was throwing his holdings on the market because of the uncertain business outlook emphasized in the latest review of trade.

General Motors was hard hit by today's selling wave, breaking more than five points to around 144, nearly 30 points below its high record established two weeks ago. U. S. Steel receded more than 2 points to 136 1/2 and Dupont tumbled 5 1/2 points to 317 1/2, which compared with its recent high of 360.

Renewed weakness in cotton brought pressure to bear against the southern carrier stocks. Atlantic Coast Line falling four points and Chesapeake and Ohio slumping more than 2. Other rails showed better resistance to the selling attack.

The closing was weak. Total sales approximated 1,000,000 shares.

THREE FIRE COMPANIES FIGHT $75,000 BLAZE

Between 9 and 10 o'clock Wednesday night at Coxsackie a fire damaging over $75,000 worth of property occurred. Besides the Coxsackie firemen two other companies were called, from Athens and Ravena, to aid in fighting the flames. The properties that were damaged were the Brady undertaking building, the Masonic building, the A. Brooks building and several small buildings in the vicinity. The blaze started in the Carey Coopersage plant which was filled with material and barrels used to the great demand for containers to ship fruit in. It is thought that the flames started on the first floor and in a short time the factory was a roaring furnace.

Saugerties Girl to Broadcast Tonight.

Ulster county radio fans will be interested to know that Miss Beale Lang, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lang of Partition street, Saugerties, will broadcast from the radio broadcasting station WRNY at New York city this evening at 8:15 o'clock. Miss Lang has been in New York for some time where she is taking a course in voice culture and has done exceptionally well.

Think This Over

When you feel unkindly toward the man you work for—when your heart is full of resentment and your head full of revenge, stop and take a personal inventory.

There are always two sides to a situation.

You are not all wrong; and if this be true, it is not reasonable to assume that the man you work for is not all wrong?

No person on earth can do good work with a single head full of malice and raw hands that are closed like fists.

After you have considered carefully that your hostility is justified—after you have conscientiously weighed yourself and you are satisfied that you are all right in every particular—after you feel that the man you work for is wrong in every particular, the only thing left to do is to resign.—New Zealand Traveler.

Newspaper to Clean Gun

A writer to the London Field, a very well-known authority on all sporting subjects, suggests "a method of cleaning gun barrels, which has the merit of being simple, ready to hand practically everywhere, yet most effective! Three or four sheets of newspaper (the more heavily printed the better) pushed through with the cleaning-rod, will remove all dirt and leave the barrels clean and bright; follow this with a bit of dry rag and your gun is ready for next day."

Must Have More Money for Milk

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 16 (AP).—Notwithstanding that Herkimer county dairymen will not be able to maintain quantity production of fluid milk unless the price is increased in New York city was sent today to Commissioner of Health Harris and the milk conference board by the dairy committee of the Herkimer county farm bureau.

Because of the small quantity and poor quality of the feed crop this season the farmers, according to communication must buy large quantities of commercial feed if they are to maintain the volume of milk needed to supply the New York markets during the coming months.

"It therefore seems evident," says the communication "that the price of fluid milk must be materially increased to enable the farmers to increase their production."

Wouldn't Be Bluffed by "Reserve" Officer

During the early part of the World war there was considerable hard feeling between some of the regular navy men at the submarine base and those of the naval reserves at San Pedro. Many of the salty recruits of the regulars had—and showed—a feeling of superiority over the reserves, whose camp adjoined the base.

One morning a salty recruit who had about two weeks' service in the regular navy was doing sentry duty at the submarine base gate when the commanding officer of the reserve camp passed by. The sentry failed to salute him. The commander was a retired regular navy officer and a stickler for naval etiquette.

"Why did you not salute me?" asked the commander.

"I did salute you when you passed about an hour ago, sir," answered the recruit sentry, who had read somewhere in the naval regulations that he was supposed to salute an officer the first time he met him, but had not read on to where on sentry duty he was to salute an officer whenever he passed.

"You are supposed to salute me every time I pass," thundered the reserve commander.

"Who do you think you are, and how do you get that way? You're only a reserve," answered the sentry.

Acadians Returned to Get Hidden Treasure

When the Acadians were driven from their homes in what is now Nova Scotia in 1755, by the British and Colonial troops from New England, their expulsion came so suddenly that they made haste to bury their valuables, hoping that at some time they might return for them. Some of them did return but others, it would appear, were not so fortunate, for at various times, pots and chests containing money and other valuables have been uncovered. There is a story well known in the region about a family living on the north shore of Cumberland basin in 1884. One evening members of the family saw a boat anchored about a mile from land and speculated as to its mission. Next morning it was discovered that a block of stone that served as a doorstep in front of the house had been moved. Beneath where it had lain was the imprint of a three-legged pot, doubtless having contained valuables left by the Acadians nearly a century before. —Montreal Family Herald.

Have Faith in Yourself

Most men go to pieces when they have had a few beatings. They wilt. They fade away. They crawl into a safe little corner and hide while the great rough tide of glorious life rushes past them. The fact is that defeat is the normal thing in this haphazard little world and victory comes but seldom. Every victory, usually, is the result of a long series of defeats. A man must have faith in himself and in what he is trying to do. He must say "I can." He must back himself to win. He must bet on himself. He must have faith in the people he works with. He must believe in his team. He must see the better side of his co-workers and not think that his own point of view is the only right one. He must have faith in those great principles that make us superior to the animals of the forest—to truth, honesty, sympathy, justice, progress. —Fulton Magazine.

VARIETIES OF CHEESE

CHEESE being one of our most valuable of foods we need to review our knowledge of it. As the United States produces a large proportion of the cheese made in the world we should be better informed of our own product, its value commercially and dietetically. We have quite successfully limited many of the foreign varieties and established our own reputation for the best cheese in the world. We get Stilton, a rich, choice cheese, and Cheddar, pale and nutty, from England. From France comes Gruyere, which is full of large holes like Swiss, and is especially good in cooking; Neuchatel, Camembert and Brie, as well as the tasty and fascinating Roquefort, such a favorite among cheese lovers. From Holland comes the famous Edam; from Germany the odoriferous but well-liked Limburger, which is said to be most delicious, once you get it past your nose.

From the sunny south beyond the Alps comes Parmesan and Gorgonzola. Those who have not cultivated or acquired by inheritance a taste for cheese are deprived of one of the choicest of foods and flavors. As a finish for dinner there is nothing which takes the place of a bit of cheese, a cracker and a cup of black coffee. Roquefort is commonly served thus.

Cream cheese and cheese crackers with a salad are looked upon as a necessary part of a good dinner.

"Cheese crackers are prepared by sprinkling mild cheese grated over salted wafers, dashing on a bit of cayenne and then putting them into a hot oven to melt the cheese.

Many have never tried the good combination of cheese and rice; added with a cupful of white sauce and baked as an escaloped dish it is most wholesome.

Cheese canapés may be served as a first course for luncheon or dinner and are prepared by spreading soft cheese on shaped pieces of buttered bread and finish with a four-inch border of chopped olives and a piece of pimento cut into fancy shape in the center.

Cheese Custard Dish.

Spread slices of bread with butter and cover with a thick layer of grated or thinly sliced rich cheese which will melt easily. Add two eggs to a pint of milk with a bit of salt, pour over the bread in a deep casserole or baking dish and bake until the custard is set, in a moderate oven.

Hot cheese sandwiches are especially good with a plain lettuce salad. Spread bread cut into rounds, with butter; add thinly sliced cheese and cover with another round of bread. Cook in a little butter in a hot frying pan until both sides of the bread are well browned. Serve hot.

Nellie Adams was talking about his early days with the Security Tr company.

One Saturday night, just before closing the savings account window, an old man appeared and asked Mr. Adams to cash a check for $175.

"I don't know you," said Mr. Adams. "Have you a way to prove identification?"

The old man thought a moment, then reached into his pocket and pulled out a set of false teeth. He thrust them into his mouth and said:

"There's mine."

The banker, without further hesitation, cashed the check. —Exchange.

Skirts Are Long, Short or Medium

Fall Offerings Show Designs That Are Suited to Lady's Personality.

Skirts, it is now predicted in some quarters, are to be longer! It is not certain how much longer; nor just when the new style will be generally established. But straw blowing in the wind, observes a fashion correspondent in the New York Times, point to the models lately presented by French couturiers, by artists this side of the water and by the word of fashionable Americans returning early from abroad that the extremely short skirt, having become "common," is now to be lengthened in order to give it "class."

At intervals in the evolution of fashions there appears in one season changes that are revolutionary, innovations that are absolutely novel. Not that there is in dress anything new under the sun, but originality of treatment which gives the impression of novelty. These illustrations come sometimes at long intervals, sometimes following closely one upon the other, feature after feature that gradually establish a new mode worked out by the designer. In the intervals we go along easily, more or less content with the same things until we become used to them and the styles copied and repeated to monotony—until fresh ideas are demanded and the modiste receives her inspiration to create anew.

Knee-Length Skirts.

Occasionally the innovation creates a sensation, as when the chemise frock, Egyptian patterns and sleeveless bodices made their appearance and were done to a lingering death. Latest of all shocks and thrill-treating styles is the knee-length skirt to which the objections are many and varied. On the whole the adverse critics are entitled to attention on their claim of good taste. As a point of proportion, there is an incongruity between a large head, mature features full length, often extra length bodice and the abbreviated skirt. By tradition, and according to our standards, we associate knees with youth, short skirts, with the child face, and the scheme of this latest style is top-heavy and all out of balance.

Also, it is essential that knees and ankles be comely, and the average appears not to be high. So the passing of the too short skirt would be widely welcomed, and the keenest interest is felt in the final decision among the different models presented for the season. On the whole, for all of the fine points to be considered from an artistic and sartorial viewpoint, a glance through the illustrated pages of a century and less ago—showing the extremes of fashions at different stages—the décolletage and scant attire of ladies of the empire; the astonishing corsettes, the hoopskirts, stays and sweeping trains on gowns for the street; huge panniers, bustles and the "Grecian bend," it is to say, in the vernacular, that the fashions of our time "stand up" very well in comparison.

The models of the fall fashions present a great number of really new features and establish some designs

Model in Beige Lace and Georgette With New Cape Skirt.

Of unusual distinction. Lines are different, tending to simplicity yet with more grace than those of the last few years in either the spring or autumn styles, and the silhouette is different, all in the direction of more artistic creations.

The short skirt is emphasized because the question has been debated for months past, and the styles, both French and American, advance as many different suggestions as there are designers of dress. Southern, from the profusion, who, with the consciousness of recent progress, opened his doors early and wide, expressed his feeling in the matter of "short-skirt" and other details in models that are comparisons for their style—artistic, and "reaching."

short yet with a dignity that always marks his London-made designs. A few more of the order and style of things is evident in the latest models from this house, especially in the length of skirt, that for a youthful silhouette being short, but to low the knee, and the skirt made for an older woman, or one of more advanced, longer.

Five inches Off the Floor.

Madeline Visconti is cutting some of her skirts to within five inches of the floor. Jeanne Lanvin, who specializes in the robe de style, has been compromising somewhat with the mode of the day by lifting the wide skirt of her "period" gown, in some of the advance models in evening dress that have been received on this side. No whisker way the style swings and whatever the standard that will be formally established, that for the moment appears to be an individual choice, and skirts will be for a time both long, short and medium in length, and such be still considered fashionable.

It is in the general architecture of the fall costumes that the coming styles are emphasized. Taken one by one, there is the latest silhouette, multiplied by several, offering opportunity to every one in the different types of dress. A conspicuous change in design from the perfectly straight silhouette in the overdraped bodices. With this is the writhed hip, a detail that offers unlimited flattering possibilities.

Another innovation suggested in the styles of last spring is the dolman sleeve, used most frequently in coats and wraps, but also in many one-piece frocks of satin, crepe and the new soft woolsens. The gown itself is, so to speak, radically straight, but the tendency of this season toward feminine "frilliness" is shown by the tiered skirt, the attached panel which in some models is buttoned on; in others of the material like the parts of a mosaic; flowers, goblets and capebacks. In some of the most attractive models yet shown it seems surprising what may be done with a square of goods. Gathered half way along the edge of the middle it may be attached as an apron front, a classic drapey caught with an end left cascading at one side of the skirt on the knee, and drawn around the back to be caught again toward one side of the back, forming a jabot that drops in a point below the hem line of the skirt.

Woolens Attract Attention.

We know in a general way what is to be the style this fall and winter, as far as the vision of producers and creators decrees. We are already familiar with the vogue of satin, moire and velvet, and there is scarcely a thrill to be got out of these, when they are already shown in both dress and millinery. The things that appeal are the woolens, conspicuously broadcloth, in plain, novelty, lustrous and dull finishes; cashmeres, and unusual velvet, named leather, speckled, reptilian and floral, high gloss, fancy and printed velvet.

The reptilian patterns are illustrated in gold and silver lame, and there are in this wealth of fabrics velvet upturned on metal grounds and metal brocades in dramatic colorings and traceries in silver and gilt on richly colored backgrounds. Among the beautiful weaves in woolens from American looms are suede cloth, cambric, broadcloth, camel's hair, plain and plaid; suede-faced woolsens, and many mammoth structures and Scotch plaids. Rays and ruffled cloths are abundant, and flannels are to be used a lot for sports clothes.

An achievement of American weavers is the new mohair. In its present version it is as different from the original aspect as is velvet from hosiery and the material that is now coming from the looms is creating a sensation among the modistes who are always eager for novelty in material. This up-to-date mohair is soft, supple, lustrous even yet firm, light, but having a substantial "body," and with a very quality that is almost waterproof. Also, it may be washed without shrinking, fading or stretching and "reaching."

Activities at The High School

A busy week for the students of Kingston High School has just passed and many things of interest have occupied the interest of the whole student body. The Prisma Society held a meeting and elected a president, Miss Margaret Falvey, and vice-president, Miss Eleanor Champlin. The other officers were not elected at the meeting as much business had to be transacted in the first meeting of this active organization, but votes will be cast at the next meeting of the society. The Prisma has already raised a fund of $300, the interest of which will be used toward paying some girl's way through college.

The debaters of the school have begun to show signs of life and in the near future the students who are exponents of oratory will be matching wits with some rival institution for the championship of the Hudson Valley. The Lincoln-Douglas and Webster-Hayne clubs have merged into one great organization by popular consent. The debating activities in the Kingston High School will henceforth be conducted under the Webster-Hayne Society. The students who will pilot the orators this year are Joseph Block, president, Abraham Streifer, vice-president, Seamon Jacobs, secretary-treasurer.

The girls' debating society, The Mary Lyon Club, held a meeting for the first time, conducted by the new president, Julia Cook.

The students of Room No. 30 under the supervision of Miss J. Mauterstock, have distinguished themselves as the most thrifty of all the members of Kingston High School by winning the prize for the third time, having 100 per cent for deposits in the school bank. The students of the school deposited $188.43 on Bank Day, which was $118.99 less than the previous week.

An assembly was called for the members of the senior and junior classes on Friday morning when several of the seniors spoke on topics written by the famous authors. The students who spoke were: Miss Laura Andrews, Julia Burgevin, Zephania Caswell and Veronica Brown.

Railroads Use Trees
Railroads are about 120,000,000 new wood ties every year. There are 3,000 ties under every mile of track. We have to cut 3,000,000 trees every year to maintain telephone and telegraph wires, says the American Tree association of Washington. You know the size of the telegraph pole and you know that it has taken the tree that provided it a long time to grow.

ROAD HOGS ARE MENACE TO CITYCleveland Officials Censure Careless Drivers and Slow-Pokes.

Road hogs and slow-poke drivers along with jay-walkers came in for censure in a report issued by the traffic bureau of the Cleveland Automobile club.

Road hogs are a menace to safety and their activities should be curtailed, according to the report.

A road hog has been defined as a driver who takes his half of the road in the middle, thus causing congestion on city streets and country highways, which creates dangerous conditions for all who use the roads.

There is no legislation against the road hog and the Cleveland Automobile club does not feel that any is needed. However, the report suggests that motorists in general, and traffic police especially, do all in their power to educate road hogs and instruct them to drive near the right-hand curb at all times. It is believed that if overtaking cars will force road hogs to the side of the road with their horns, they will soon learn that their road hogging practices are objectionable to other motorists and will desist.

Frequent reports of accidents are received at automobile headquarters showing cases where vehicles have been crowded off the side of the road and overturned in a ditch, due to the selfishness of some road hog in not remaining on his proper side of the road. Unfortunately the road hog who actually is responsible for the accident is seldom harmed, although he may have caused death and injury to several others. Unfortunately, too, the injured parties probably have no legal redress against the person who has caused the misfortune.

Menace to Traffic.

All too frequently, the report avers, the road hog is in addition a slow-poke driver, and the combination of these two examples of faulty driving leads to a serious menace to traffic safety.

Traffic Commissioner Edward J. Donahue has maintained that slow-poke driving is much more serious than speeding, as it causes congestion, and congestion causes accidents. Vehicles going the same direction are forced out of their lane of traffic and into the lane of vehicles going in the opposite direction. If the slow-poke is in the center of the road, their visibility is not clear, and they cannot be certain that no car is coming towards them.

Fear Tires Driver

Fear causes the inexperienced driver to grow tired physically. He gets too emotional. He suffers acutely from keeping his muscles keyed up, his ears cocked for every sound and his eyes ached. Every action is work. When he puts on the brake he has to "think" about it. He gets worn out in the first 100 miles. After he learns to drive the whole business is automatic and he has no worries and does not use up either physical or mental strength.

NEW AUTOMATIC TIRE PRESSURE CONTROL

A large oil company operating in California has installed in their gas stations automatic tire pressure control air pumps for inflating tires on automobiles. With the machine, you simply turn the dial to the number of pounds pressure you wish in your tires and connect the air hose to your tire and you get the right amount of air and no more. The photograph shows the machine at work.

In Persia there's a woman one hundred forty years old with a son who just celebrated his one hundred anniversary birthday. It is understood that she still spends most of her time sitting trying to get him to wash her of his ears.

The worst thing about a vacation is making it.

One man's outfit is another man's man's.

God made the country, and then He made it worth $200 an acre.

Excellent Plan to Clean Automobile Upholstery

Upholstering in your car can be cleaned. It should be refreshed several times during the summer, when windows will be open to flying dust. Soil common to upholstery is grease, dust, and water marks. Dust must be removed first, grease second, and water stains last. Water marks more often are in cloth lining of the top. Remove all floor coverings—to be dusted, or washed, as you desire. Also, take out all cushions and whip them with a carpet beater to loosen imbedded soil. Use your vacuum carpet cleaner to remove loose dirt—also brush stiffly with a whisk broom.

If possible use a vacuum cleaner to go over the interior of car before cleaning with liquid. At least, brush upholstery stiffly before dampening in cleaning.

Apply carbon tetrachloride with a stiff brush, using container into which brush can be dipped conveniently. Go over all the cloth thoroughly, but do not apply more of the liquid than will be necessary to remove soil or grease spots.

If stains remain after brushing with carbon tetrachloride, sponge the surface with cold water while it still contains carbon tetrachloride.

Direction Signal Help for Automobile Driver

The Scientific American, illustrating and describing a direction-indicating signal for vehicle drivers, the invention of F. N. Moore of Peoria, Ill., says:

"One of the principal objects of the invention is to provide a signal for use upon automobiles by day or night, whereby to indicate to approaching or following vehicle drivers any intended maneuvers on the part of the vehicle carrying the signal. The invention provides a signal of the type in which an arrow is used for indicating the direction of the turn to be made, the construction being such that the head and tail of the arrow, which are formed of equilateral triangular plates, may be moved at will in relation to attain positions for reversing the directions in which the arrow points."

Hearse Is Pleasure Car According to Decision

A hearse is a pleasure vehicle, according to a decision made in the traffic court of Brooklyn, N. Y. It was in the case of John Fitzpatrick, hearse driver, who was arrested on Manhattan bridge by a motorcycle patrolman for driving the hearse in the lane reserved for pleasure vehicles.

When the case came up the motorcycle policeman admitted to Magistrate Lawrence Fish that he had not known, when he issued the summons, that a hearse is included in the pleasure vehicle classification by a new ruling of the state motor vehicle commissioner which took effect recently.
